REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: In claim 1, the claimed lens cleaner for an optical disc drive having a cleaning member to clean the object lens in which the disc is not caused to rotate until a focusing operation has been successfully achieved and a focus preventing face is on the face of the disc facing the object lens preventing focusing when the power is on with no signal being a subject of focus by the lens or having no recording layer at all on which a signal could be recorded is neither taught nor suggested by the prior art of record. Kobayashi et al do not show this combination of focusing and cleaning with the disc structure set forth. In claim 12, the lens cleaner for an optical disc device having a disc with a non-focusing surface preventing focusing by the disc to provide an error signal whereby the device will not rotate the disc substrate, the cleaner provided on the non-focusing surface of the substrate for insertion into the player and contact with the lens on the pickup unit and allowing the operator to move the cleaning member relative to the lens is neither taught nor suggested by prior art of record including Kobayashi et al. In claim 15, the method of cleaning an optical disc player providing a cleaning member on a non-focusing surface and flexible operating member extending from the disc substrate, powering the disc player to operation state, inserting the disc in the player and the cleaning member adjacent the lens, causing an error signal to occur in the operation state of the player when it attempts to focus on the non-focusing surface is neither taught nor suggested by the prior art of record including Kobayashi et al. Also, see Applicant's arguments on pages 10-12 of the paper filed 9/9/05.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
